Provincial's Speak

WHERE VISION MEETS MISSION

Nature is quite remarkable. It's ability to rebound against the ravages and plundering of mankind- surprisingly, quickly and with very little help never ceases to astound me and give me continuing reason to believe that with vision, energy and enterprise we can navigate and explore life to make it meaningful.

The summer vacation with its memorable events have showered on us a rejuvenating respite from the hustle and bustle of the Academic year 2018-2019.

The Principals meet held at Bengaluru with theme 'Uniqueness: Pathway to excellence in Education' was awe-inspiring to chisel unique strategies for achieving success in the Personal and Professional life. It's time to aim at Professional and Personal best in all our Montfortian Institutions. Ethics can be preached, but is best understood only when demonstrated. Take firm and swift decisions to inculcate a sense of ethics or instill the DNA of the Montfortian values. No doubt, it's an uphill task. But faith can move mountains.

The Class X and XII results of the Province have been incredible and speaks volumes on the dedication and commitment of the Brothers of the Province of Hyderabad. Continue to build a Robust Creative environment for your young learners, inviting inspiration and facilitating new projects to mould them into elegant human beings.

In the journey of life waves of opportunities keep coming but whoever decides to make use of those waves by putting in their maximum efforts alone taste the fruits of victory.

The First Vows of the Brothers at Yercaud, Final vows at St. Alphonsus' Nalgonda and the Renewal of Vows of the Brothers on 25th May,2019 at Montfort Bhavan, Ramanthapur is a treasured honour and celebrating asset of the Montfortian family.

'Mere Seeds cannot become trees unless planted in the right soil'

I congratulate the Montfortian fraternity for strengthening the Montfortian Motto: 'God Alone elevating Montfortian spirituality.'

Our journey has only begun. There are miles to go and experiences to enjoy before we sleep.

I sign of welcoming the new Academic Year with a wish for all to stay blessed always!

CGPA 10 In class 10th is like a dream come true. Every student aims at achieving a CGPA 10 but a very few succeed. I, Seelam Avanthikaam blessed to be one among the few. All this wouldn't have been possible without my teachers' guidance and motivation. They have encouraged me throughout my journey from day one in boosting up my confidence.

They helped me to plan smartly and made the subjects friendly. The revision cycles were the best way to practice which every student requires just before the exams as they help us in recognizing our mistakes so as to avoid them in the boards. The discussions which the teachers held while distributing the papers were of utmost importance, as they stated and corrected our mistakes to avoid the possibility of committing them in the finals. They also taught us the importance of time management, neatness and clarity of our handwriting, etc. The one to one interactions between the teachers and students were very useful. All this has eventually raised the level of confidence in me to work hard and achieve my goal.

Last but not the least, I would like to thank my parents and friends for supporting me.

Seelam Avanthikaam

MY JOURNEY OF THE MOST INTEGRAL PART OF MY LIFE

The school plays an important role in helping children learn to interact positively with everyone and so happened with me. Growing up I've heard adults saying, "High school was the best three years of their school life." And to really make it the best, we have to find a balance between the cocurricular activities and maintaining a good academic standing. Here comes the most important part of our lives where we get to learn to master our skills. At this point of life, we become mature enough to recognize our interests, our passion and in the process everything else we need to know about ourselves.

There are numerous events that make school life the best phase in one's life. The best part about my school life was when I was made School's Cultural Secretary. It was all because the Principal and my teachers had faith in me that I would always do the right for my school. This boosted my confidence to be the best. They always supported me in every task I did and praised me sincerely. This helped me recognize my interests.

At this zenith of twelve years of schooling I realize that my institution, the Principal, the teachers and my parents have been very encouraging and supportive throughout this journey and through this I received the motivation to achieve a good grade. Saying goodbye to my second home I deeply cherish the energy, the joys, the sporting events, the cocurricular activities, the responsibilities, the happiness and every moment spent in this temple of learning which is just out of this world. I whole heartedly thank my Principal, my teachers, my parents and all my well-wishers through whom I got the motivation to look forward to achieve my target for doing my best in the years to come and to succeed in life.

WHAT DID I DO TO GET 10 GPA IN MY BOARDS

Scoring 10 GPA in my boards was my childhood dream. I always wanted to see my photo on the banner which is opposite to the main gate. Scoring 10 GPA hasn't been easy, especially for me because I did not have any tuition or coaching or any other help, on top of that I was into the school cabinet. So double effort had to go in my studies.

When in school I always had to do some work as it was my responsibility. I missed many classes because of that. After returning from school my day went into completing incomplete works, bulletin board work, homework etc but, I had to do something to manage my time. As time passed, there wasn't much work and I could pull it off quite easily.

There is a lot of time going into reflections and project preparation. Time management is the key to success. One major aspect is that, I had no pressure at home about studies. I was always free to study whenever I felt like. I myself wanted to get 10 GPA, it wasn't my family's pressure. I was away from all distraction and was focusing on my studies.

I solved the question papers of other districts during preparation holidays. Revision cycles were extremely helpful. I thank this system of revision cycles a lot. Writing a 40 marks paper in 2 - 3 lessons helped me understand the questions that could be asked. I studied those 2 – 3 lessons thoroughly. It was very, very helpful.

I consider myself to be really lucky to have such supportive teachers and parents. The internet if properly used, is a blessing for our studies. Sites like YouTube, Byjus and Khan Academy the videos lectures are extremely good and the topics are easy to understand. I made the full use of the internet to understand some topics as I missed about 50 % and the other 50 % was incomplete because I had missed the previous classes.

I think studying on my own helped me a lot. I understood my subject thoroughly. I put more effort in Telugu as it was “easy to lose A1” subject. According to me reading the lessons thoroughly is the ultimate way to get 10 GPA. During exams I made sure I was happy and tension free. This helped me study peacefully. I took a break every 2 hours watched some of my favourite YouTube videos etc. I did it in a limit. I enjoyed studying every subject. I always write down some important question and answers to check how much I know. I think my writing habit made remembering things an easy task. I drew each and every diagram in Science for practice, practiced each and every place on the map, Read each and every word of the subject textbooks.

Revision cycles helped a lot I can't stress enough over how important they were for my studies. Preparation holidays are the golden days. So much could be done in those days.

I made a few mistakes too, like not studying regularly but even then covered the all syllabus. I talked to all the people who scored 10 GPA in 2018 boards from our school and took tips on how to study and what to study. I paid a lot of attention when teachers said, “this is important” or “this is how you write the exam”. Learning from my mistakes and asking doubts was also quite beneficial. Solving previous years question papers was very helpful. While writing the exam, presence of mind is very important.

The whole year I had a lot of fun. I participated in inter house literary and cultural events, trained for group events, did all the bulletin board work went to interschool competitions and did all my work. Getting into the Cabinet in class 10 helped me in becoming stronger and learning time management.

I went to movies, watched TV, YouTube, did art and crafts, yet it did not disturb my studies. I consider a stress-free environment, a passion for getting 10 GPA and my hard work the most important components to my success. It is not easy but not very hard. Giving my heart and soul to studies made all the difference and now, when I look at my result there is nothing but a strong sense SATISFACTION! I thank every person who helped me and supported me, including my friends, family and teachers.....

MY JOURNEY IN THE FINAL GRADE OF MY SCHOOLING

' Success is not a destination , it is a journey'.

Our X class studies started way ahead of other classes as the teachers wanted to acquaint us with the new syllabus and prepare us with a couple of lessons before the schools could close for the summer vacations. We were given project work to prepare for the First FA in the holidays.

As I have always topped in my class right from class I, I started feeling that I should do my best in the final year of my schooling.

When the school re-opened, our teachers briefed us that they would complete the syllabus by December and then we would have to appear for the Revision Cycles. So we all geared up and I prepared a regular and regimental plan for securing the perfect score of 10 Point GPA.

My parents supported me at home and my Principal and teachers guided me at school. As it was the final year of school, I participated in all the Literary activities to the best of my ability. As a House Captain of my class, I had additional responsibilities to discharge.

The most unforgettable moment of my X grade was our class picnic. That day I enjoyed myself to my hearts content with my friends and teachers.

We all did our best for the internal assessment marks and I scored full marks with my planned study habits. Our revision cycle started in December and got over by early March.

These exams and tests prepared us for our boards and we faced the SSC Examinations confidently. St. Paul's helped me achieving 10 point GPA and with this renewed confidence I am all set to embark on the new journey of my life.

I owe my success in school to my parents, my Brother Principal and my teachers. So, I shall continue to work hard and keep the flag of SPHS flying high!

'Life is like a flute . It may have many holes and emptiness but if we work on it carefully we can produce magical melodies.'

SCHOOL DAYS

I, Kananapuri Nishitha, a proud student of St. Paul's High School from class 10 - I wish to share the memories of the best part of my life that is - SCHOOL LIFE.

Like most of you, I too remember the first day at my school. I was excited and was also proud that I didn't cry when my Dad left me at school.

The teachers in our school are the precious gems, who are like the pillars for the establishment of our school's high standards. Our teachers not only care about us but love us like our mothers. They were ready to help us at any time. I am sure that they will always be remembered by us/

Here come the source of entertainment who were and are always with us friends. Not only me but everyone is going to miss their friends. I was lucky enough to find good friends who were always with me in the up's and down's. The way we laughed together, the jokes we cracked will always be evergreen and fresh in my mind.

I feel that I am lucky because I completed my schooling in such a good school. My school life was like a roller coaster side with all the ups and downs. It's next to impossible to define the complete experience in words. I didn't think that 12 years would pass this fast.

We, the batch of 2018 - 19 now stand as confident students who are ready to start a new phase in the journey of life and success. I am sure that all the moments and memories we spent here will never fade away even when we grow old.

I would like to thank every person who made my journey even more colourful with their involvement. I am really very sad that I have to wave good -bye to my school.

These days are really going to be missed by all and I now that no price can bring back those days. At last, I will always be a proud PAULIAN.

“WHATEVER YOU CAN DO OR DREAM YOU CAN, BEGIN IT. BOLDNESS HAS GENIUS, POWER AND MAGIC IN IT. BEGIN IT NOW.”

The life of Brotherhood inspired me to dream and achieve the success with boldness. The power, magic of inner self kept me available to reach the designs of God. The days, years spent as a religious Brother paved a way to embrace Christ's love and life. Its God's unconditional love for me made life very meaningful and worthwhile. The deeper experience of love, encouragement from my beloved ones led me live in the spirituality of Brotherhood. The purpose brings passion to create a new life. The passion ignited my heart to be a Brother to all in doing everything with love. This passion enabled my intellect to understand the path that St. Louie Marie Montfort trod. Here I remember an anecdote from history... Many of us might know Napoleon the Emperor of France. He had everything human person would usually crave for; glory, power, riches etc. yet towards the end of his life at the island of St. Helena he said, 'I have never known six happy days in my life.' Similarly, we might also know Helen Keller, the celebrated lady of America who went deaf and blind after 19 months from her birth. She had everything that the world considered a curse. Still she happened to say at the end of her life that 'I have found life so beautiful'. This anecdote changed my attitude and perspective towards life. This ability to make life beautiful enhanced my knowing life and enriched the call of God. "I have found life so beautiful to live as a Brother to all".

The community life at Kothagudam: The life as a teacher was a fond memory, it was those treasured memories and experiences gave me joyful initiation to religious life. I deeply appreciate my superior and Brothers of the community for their availability and guidance in every aspect of life.

The community life at St. Mathews, Vijayawada: a journey as a student was ever fresh and sweet reminiscence. I have to let go certain things to grow in life. The spirit of Brotherhood in the community, the encouragement of every member of the community directed me to feel the oneness of Brotherhood. It has been a rich and fruitful experience which made me to understand the call to Religious Brotherhood. I am deeply indebted to my superiors and Brothers for helping me nurture the values of religious life. I am thankful to them for the spiritual formation given to me.

The life as a theology student: the studies rekindle knowledge on God and love for humanity. It is to know God deeper and to live a meaningful life. The studies widened the horizon on the spirituality and the concept of religious life. In all these years the personal and community prayers have been the great source of inspiration and strength for my growth. I thank all the formatters for inspiring me with your edifying life.

Today I feel exuberant to recall all those moves of happiness. I feel grateful to those who became part of my life. They led me as their own brother. I always cherished all the memories and thanks God for the wonderful gift of life and vocation. I thank all the Provincials and the Superiors who guided me for what I am today. I thank all the brothers for accepting me in this mighty religious family.

We should be for one another and always pray for each other. We have to maintain a bond that lasts forever. This bond should help us to promote our mission and the dream of St. Montfort. I earnestly request you all to pray for me as I am going to live my life as a full fledged member of the society.

FAITH JOURNEY AS A RELIGIOUS PERSON

Life is a Journey and the life as a religious person is a greatest journey, it's not always easy, but as a believer I know that God will help me through those patches of rough roadway, no streetlights, and broken bridges. If anyone of us is feeling weary in our journeys, take courage - our guide is Jesus, and our final destination is Heaven!

I stepped into the life of religion as young boy of 17 years with the timely intervention of Bro.Rayappa, who is my formator, Guide and inspiration.

I always felt the call very strongly in me through various situations. I felt the power of God leading me in the path that the holy spirit paved. I was brought up by a Godly woman, my mother (Fathima), whose love has no bounds. I was her world and she knew nothing than me. We both lived for each other. It was God's will that she should present me to the care of Montfort Brothers and leave to her eternal abode.

As a candidate, as I was zealous by looking merely at the statue of St. Montfort. I would imagine myself in the stone structure. I would read lot on St. Montfort. There was a great transformation in me. It's difficult to explain in words but I literally felt God's love flow through me always. Something I have heard about, but never experienced before. A love unimaginable. A light, warm energy coming from above and flowing through me from head to toe. A love that was for me but also for all of humanity. Within seconds of feeling God's love, I heard: everyone needs to feel this kind of love. It was a supernatural experience and one that forever changed my life.

As a novice, each day is an opportunity for me to examine my journey of faith. It was a time to pray, to study, and to reflect. It was a time to grow in my relationship with God. Each day is an opportunity to follow Jesus, not my own wishes and desires. It was a journey of gratitude. It is a life of ongoing dependence on God. It is a journey of thanksgiving, praising God for joy and abundant love, and his steadfast presence in sorrow, despair, and fear. All these made me to be convinced that the path that I have chosen was right. Br. Jenny, my novice master deserves all the compliments as he enabled me to nurture these feelings of mine and strengthened the conviction of being men of God.

As I reflect my life, I would ask "Where would I be without God's presence during the straightaways and high peaks of my life?" He has heard my prayers of thanksgiving and joy: delight in loving my life, joy in doing the Montfortian Mission, the blessings and fraternal love of all the Brothers. I am sure God will be my guide, whether the journey is difficult or easy. He will continue to bless me with an abundance of friends and the joy of brotherhood. He will uphold me in sorrow. He will quench my thirst for knowledge, and fill my days with challenges. As I journey through life, God will refresh me through His word, His people, and His presence.

I sincerely thank all the Provincials of the Province of Hyderabad, especially Bro.BalaShowry, the present Provincial, for inspiring and for timely guidance and leadership. I thank each all my former superiors and Brothers for formations and help to learn the Montfortian way of life. Lets all be united in leading people to God through our prayers and mission.

THE FINAL PROFESSION 2019 PRAYERFUL AND FRATERNAL GREETINGS TO ALL THE BROTHERS

“Invited to leave everything to follow Christ, you consecrated men and women, no longer define your life by family, by profession, or by earthly interests, and you choose the Lord as your only identifying mark. Thus you acquire a new family identity.”

(Pope Saint John Paul II)

It gives me an immense joy and happiness for having committed myself completely to God's hand in Montfortian Family.

I was born and brought up in a very good Catholic family in fraternal proximity with Montfort Brothers St. Gabriel in Jabalpur, right from my childhood. God, who has called me, as my Saviour is my Guide and my source of unending inspiration in my life.

We are reminded of the invocation to be becomes of light, “You are like light for the world. Your light must shine before people, so that they will see the good things you do and praise your Father in heaven.” Let this fire within me burn always so God may be praised through me forever in whatever I do.

After having lived with the Brothers for 6 year as a religious Brother, I have imbibed the spirit within me, we are called by Christ deeply to share the intimacy of his heart, my religious consecration is a call to continued transcendence of self in love. One with Christ in the sacrifice of Himself with Mary, His Mother, I offer my life daily for the salvation of men and woman.

I have understood that the brotherhood is the most perfect way in proclaiming the God's kingdom. For me, Brotherhood is to become brother to all in mutual love and working together for the Church, in my witness to Christ's love for all especially for the neediest, in my representation of Christ in the midst of the people. This life of the religious enabled me to live better. My joy of being a religious is boundless.

I must say that my Journey as a brother has been exciting, challenging and a new way of life. Life in community is really good and encouraging for me, as I experience each member differently and enjoy their gifts as each member share their fraternal Love in community.

At this juncture, I am reminded of a beautiful Chinese proverb which says
“When eating the fruit, think of the persons who planted the tree”.

I must recall with gratitude and pride the dedicated service of all the Parents, Brothers, Formators, well-wishers, and Friends, Specially the Brothers of Hyderabad , Pune and Delhi. I consider them as part of a great 'Pyramid' who had shaped me and to reach at this stage. I also express thanks to all my Superiors Bro. David Indwar, Bro. Ronald, Bro. Lourdu Marreddy. The Love of Jesus and Love for his Brothers made my way to cherish brotherhood, my billion thanks to them.

I take this occasion to thank Rev. Bro. Pratap Reddy, Rev. Bro. K.M. Joseph, and Rev. Bro. Bala Showry the Provincial Superiors and Council for their constant Supervision and sustenance to lead me to a right path.

Brothers of Nalgonda; Rev. Bro. Arun Prakash, Rev. Bro. Lourdu Raj, and Rev Bro. Sandeep, for their co-operation, generosity, hospitality and executing their hands towards the successful completion of the Program.

I also extended my sincere thanks to Most Rev. Govindu Joji, Bishop of Nalgonda, Fathers, Sisters, Brothers, Family members and well-wishers for your gracious Presence added more joy to Our Celebration.

I remember two things said by the Provincial which sustain me, the 1st one my inner conviction that it is Jesus who has called you to this life and that you are trying to respond to His call every day. Second, every day you must be constantly be in touch, through personal Prayer, with the Master of your call.

God has strengthened my call to be his disciple through words, deeds and reflections. He guided me in every step I take. I believe, in giving everything to Him, we are Building the kingdom of God, With Jesus as my Brothers-partner, mother Mary as my guide, St. Montfort and all the Brothers who have gone ahead of me as my models, Thus making my life a mission for and a way to the Kingdom of God.

My billion thanks to all the Brothers of the Province for their fervent prayer and spiritual support in every possible way to help me be a great Montfortian.

Thanking you one and all. May God bless us all....

MY GRACEFUL JOURNEY...

We, the consecrated persons, are specially called by God to live the life following Christ radically in all the situations filled with hope, so that we may become hope for the hopeless people; because in hope we are saved (Rom 8: 24).

My family brought me up in a good catholic atmosphere and thought me good values and encourage me in my faith and vocation.

My prayer and commitment to God made to be one with him. Prayer has become everything in life. I feel that Jesus is the centre of my life. The Lord has blessed me in various ways. Personal prayer, meditation has deepened my strong relationship with God and given me lots of strength in times of difficulties and challenges. "A quiet spirit is of great worth in God's sight" has made me to feel always that I am precious in God's sight.

For the past years I was placed in different communities. I had enriching experience in the communities and it added lots of beauty to my life. I have experienced lots of love; care and concern from the community. The exemplary life of the brothers guided me to live our charism and challenged me in various aspects of my life. Community has been a great strength and support for me to live my life and to do my Mission. Though there were difficulties I have learnt to adjust and think in a positive way because they are the stepping stones for greater experiences in the future.

The vocation to religious life is a very special gift of God to me. All credit goes to my parents for their prayer and support in this way of life and showing the seed of faith in Christian life. Thanks to all the brothers in the initial formation who helped me in many ways. Today what I am is because of many Brothers encouragements and timely corrections, namely novice master Bro. Jenny Kuriakose, Bro. Edward, Bro. Ronald, Bro. Lourdu Marreddy, Bro. Bala Joseph, Bro. Jose Kallely and late Bro. John Vaniapura.

My sincere thanks to all the Provincial Superiors Bro. K. M Joseph, Bro. Pratap Reddy and Bro. Bala Showry and their council for their constant supervision and support to guide in the footsteps of our founder.

Bro. Jaywant Kerketta

"I CHOSE YOU. I WANTED YOU. I APPOINTED YOU. I SET YOU WHERE YOU ARE". (Jn 15:16)

Called to be a child of God and a brother of Jesus, I am privileged to share in the vision and mission of Jesus for humanity. Jesus called it "Kingdom of God". It is a vision in which humanity is called to become a fraternal community of the children of God. Having made my final commitment, I now belong to God and God's mission on earth.

I express my gratitude to God for this marvelous gift of life to me to become permanent member of the Montfort Brothers of St.Gabriel. He has chosen me to be His and to be dedicated to his service in love, peace and joy. During my formation period I was formed at various stages to become a good religious brother. I am determined to give myself to God and to my brothers as a dedicated enthusiastic religious brother.

It is my fitting and privileged duty to thank my co-travelers who moulded and guided me to embrace the religious life. I sincerely thank my parents for their enormous encouragement and constant support through their prayers and love and most of all their good example.

To realize my vocation there were also other good people who backed me. My special thanks to all my formatters who were my inspiration and who helped me to grow towards the fullness of my being.

I consider myself favored by providence for having called to be a Montfortian Gabrielite. All these years of training and the experiences of being in the field of mission are invaluable gifts that has made me who I am. It is my resolve to build on these gifts till it reaches its fullness. Building the Kingdom of God, contributing towards it, will be the achievement that I seek to realize in my life. With Jesus as my brother-partner, Mother Mary as my guide, St.Montfort and all the Brothers who have gone ahead of me as my models, I am confident of realizing it. In this life –mission project I hope to involve as many people as possible so as to make them partners in it. thus making my life a mission for and a way to the kingdom of God.

CONSECRATION TO JESUS THROUGH MARY IN THE PERSPECTIVES OF ST. MONTFORT

Introduction

The term “consecration” refers in a general sense, to the act of dedicating oneself to a specific purpose or intention. To “Consecrate” oneself essentially means dedicate entirely to something of greatest important. When it is spoken plainly, however, “consecration” refers to the act of setting oneself aside and dedicating oneself to a deity, and that deity almost always refers to God. The term also can be used to refer to ordination into a sacred office. However, for most believers, it only refers to a basic, personal act of dedication.

To “Consecrate” means to make something, holy or sacred. In that sense, the act of consecration can also be defined as the act of being made sacred. We can see in the OT, God consecrated few men and women to do His will. In the NT too we find that many who were called by Christ to consecrate themselves to do the mission of the Father. Here, Mary places a significant role in helping the disciples to dedicate themselves to Jesus her son. For Example, at Pentecost, she inspired the disciples to be united to receive the Holy Spirit in order to carry out the mission entrusted (Acts 2:1-13). Thus, with the help of Mary they were able to carry out their mission and bring the Gospel of Jesus throughout the world. The essence and core element of consecration to Jesus through Mary was highlighted by St. Montfort. In his books we find how each individual is consecrated to Christ through Mary to continue the mission of God the Father.

It is through the blessed Virgin Mary that Jesus came into the world, and it is also through her He must reign in the world. The blessed Virgin Mary is fully consecrated to God in the most perfect manner, the first model of consecrated souls (Cf. Redemption is Donum, 17), ever ready in obedience, courageous in poverty and receptive in fruitful virginity, she accomplished the will of the Father. Following in the footsteps of Mary, the new Eve, consecrated people in this broken world, express their spiritual fruitfulness by becoming receptive to the Word, in order to contribute to the growth of a new humanity by the unconditional dedication and the living witness of their transfigured lives, as they go forth to meet the human needs to serve and bring help, but above all to bring Jesus to the humanity.

Structure of the Dissertation and the method or the process you followed

In the first chapter I have dealt with consecration in the scriptures, where God has consecrated ordinary people to do His work through them. In the Old Testament I have centred on the consecration of people of Israel, Group of consecrated people and figures of consecration like prophets Kings, and judges, who were always instruments of God for His work. Then in the New Testament where Mary consecrated to God in bringing the Saviour to this world and consecration of the John the Baptist, who were consecrated to God for the preparing the way for the Son of God by calling the people of Israel to come and repent for their sins. And then the consecration of Jesus to do the will of His father. At last I have focused on the consecration of disciples and St. Paul.

In the second chapter I have dealt the inspiration from Mary's Consecration, where I focused on the Mary's life and her consecration and Her role in the Church and in the salvation of every one. Mary co-operated as co-redemptrix in the objective redemption or the once for all acquisition by the sacrifice of Calvary of the claim to all grace and forgiveness. Here we will consider how our Lady co-operates as mediatrix in the subjective redemption or distribution of that grace and forgiveness throughout all ages after Calvary. What Mary began on earth in association with the saving mission of Jesus, she continues still, in union with the risen Christ. Mary plays a vital role in the lives of the disciples of today in playing their roles in the Church in their different capacities. In a nutshell Mary is the perfect model for each individual as the consecrated person.

In the Third chapter I have dealt about Mary: in the life and writings of St. Montfort. St. Montfort is the one of the persons who had great devotion towards the Mother Mary from the childhood it made him to write a number of books on her. The focus of spiritual methods was that consecration to Jesus through Mary. He believed that to reach Jesus we need Mary thus he says reach Jesus through Mary I also focused on the implication of this consecration and uses in our spiritual journey towards reaching the promise land.

Major Conclusions That I Have Drawn And Their Implications For Consecrated Life And Mission

The birth of a child is an exciting and happy event, and we all recognize it as the beginning of a new life. We'd never say it's an end or conclusion, because it is the starting of new life.

It's the same with us believers. Our being saved and born again with the life of God is truly wondrous and joyful. But it's not a conclusion. Our regeneration is only the beginning of our spiritual journey. And just as babies need to grow and develop, we Christians need to move forward step by step. In this development, each Christian is called to follow uniquely this step according to their specific vocation (married or consecrated).

The word "consecration" isn't a commonly used word, but even so, we might have an existing concept about what it means. In religion, the word consecration has been used in relation to the official ordaining of a person to be a preacher, a priest, or a missionary. This use implies consecration is for a special category of people. In the Old Testament, the term consecration is known as sacrifice. It was something set apart for God by being put on the altar. When people offered a thing to God, it no longer belonged to the one who was offering, but it belonged to God, for His use and His satisfaction. But the consecration revealed in the New Testament is for every believer in Christ. In fact, as we'll see, we cannot subjectively know the life of Christ in us or reach spiritual maturity without consecrating ourselves to the Lord. This is because consecration is the basis for every spiritual experience.

Today, we continue this consecration to Lord, where we become a living sacrifice. We give up our own claims on ourselves and put ourselves completely in His hands. Previously, our life was for our use and our satisfaction; now it is for His. When we present ourselves to the Lord as a living sacrifice, we're simply saying, Lord Jesus, I am for you. I'm no longer for myself, the world, or anything else. I am for your use and your satisfaction.

The paper which I have researched about is consecration to Jesus through Mary, in the eyes my founder St. Montfort, Mary is the way to reach Jesus. She is the surest, easiest and fastest way to reach Jesus.

In Consecrated life one enters into an intimate covenantal relationship with God through the means of evangelical counsels. Consecration expresses the dynamic and religious aspect of belonging entirely to God. It is lived as witness or "Epiphany" of faith in Him, as homage to His divine sovereignty and therefore a sacrifice of the whole person to Him, in constant and continual progress which elevates every action of religious to God. Total consecration to God is the result of three dimensions: the first is ascetical detachment or breaking away from creatures; the second is mystical, an entire cleaving to God. The third is apostolic: which leads the consecrated person back to mankind. God has given rights to everyone, to be used for his honor, and uses them in conformity with God's law, making them expressions of his love for the giver of all.

MARY'S ROLE IN OUR SALVATION

The human role in God's design of salvation is not an addition to God's work; God alone saves us through Jesus Christ. It is our task to receive the message of salvation in faith, respond to it in obedience and be involved and committed in its realization. This human response is realized first in Mary. She embodies the human part in the divine work of salvation. Mary receives the angelic message and in obedience responds: "behold the handmaid of the Lord: let it be done to me according to your word" (Lk 1:38). Mary's role in the divine work of her redemption can be summed up in three conclusions: they are her faith, her free response and her total involvement. In this she is the model of the Church. Everything in salvation is God's work; everything must be received in faith by her, for the work.

Mary's presence under the Cross is understood as the ultimate ratification of her fiat in Nazareth. Her response to the angel is total and final, yet its implications must unfold throughout her life; its full meaning is revealed only in the acceptance of his passion, sharing in his obedience unto death. There is only surrender in Mary's life which must be realized and ratified to the end. Under the cross nothing added to Mary's faith in Nazareth, but now she realizes the full implication of her vocation as mother of Savior.

So, Mary is model of the Church, redeemed and sharing in God's redemptive work; the Church is a community of the redeemed which, in turn, becomes "sacrament of salvation" for the world. By surrendering to be the mother of God, she is an instrument in the Hand of God to bring salvation to the humanity by her consecration.

Montfort's own personal experience of Marian Devotion coupled with his pastoral experience enabled him to choose words and ideas in order to teach others true devotion to Mary.

Montfort says, "The most perfect and most profitable of all devotions to the Blessed Virgin consists in consecrating ourselves entirely to her and to Jesus through her as slaves. It involves consecrating to her completely and for all eternity our body and soul, our possessions both spiritual and material, the atoning value and the merits of our good actions and our right to dispose of them.

According to St. Louis Marie de Montfort, the most important effect of the consecration to Mary is...

Total Consecration to Jesus as set forth by St. Louis Marie de Montfort is a beautiful exercise to increase your spirituality and ability to truly serve our Lord Jesus Christ. Mary's life was set aside for the sole purpose of serving our Lord. By following her example, we, too, can completely give ourselves to Christ in a fundamental way that consecrates us to Him. We give our lives to Him in service and love. We gain Several things through this Consecration.

- ♣ You would be a complete person – made whole in God
- ♣ You would acquire every feature of Jesus Christ with little pain or effort
- ♣ You will renew perfectly the vows and promises of Holy Baptism
- ♣ You will grow in holiness and increase your faith, hope, and love
- ♣ You would be able to live out your vocation joyfully
- ♣ You will find graces in your life multiplying
- ♣ You would not despair because of your sins
- ♣ You would be doing the best thing you could do for all

THE HUMAN BODY IS A BASIS AND CHANNEL TO COMMIT ONESELF TO THE DIVINE BODY

Modern culture tends to glorify having rather than being. Modern people collect more and more resources and use things to make life increasingly comfortable. Though humankind has made gigantic progress in the scientific and technological fields, they are very close to the brutes because of the degrading value system. The value of a human person is a God given value. The human being is to be respected and treated as a person from the moment of conception and therefore, from that same moment his rights as a person must be recognized. Dishonour of human being is dishonour of God.

Human beings are complementary sexual beings from their very creation. Often, the human body is considered more as a commodity than a unique gift. They become product of personal desires and likes instead of considering as a subject of individuality. The human body is not considered as unique and sometimes one considers him/her as a commodity. Reductionism, objectification of the body and sexual deviations are some of the prominent problems which we face today. We should not remain indifferent or discouraged in such a serious and dangerous situation. To combat against these structures, a more constructive response is needed. This can be effectively done only with a sound and reliable knowledge about the human body, the factors promoting right understanding and the issues hampering the sacredness of it. These confusions and unfair situations in the society prompted me to reflect more on the nature and experience of human beings in the context of anthropology, in order to understand more about integral human nature.

Significance of the Study: This study is an anthropological analysis of the human body from a Christian point of view. As sexual beings we have to accept and respect our own positive and negative needs of the body and should go beyond the bodily realm. This is the anthropology of the Christian vocation. In this sense, an authentic human existence needs to face some bodily challenges and transform them to a greater reality. It is an invitation for us to become the real promoters of human body and respect the value and dignity of others in order to live the culture of life.

The understanding of the theological anthropology needs to be revised. This demands a shift and it should begin from the very existence of human life. It is based on the recognition of a fundamental relationship with God, that human being is a creature of God, whom God considers as worthy. As a being, a human being is endowed with physical and spiritual potential. The uniqueness of the human being calls him/her to widen his/her perspective into different realms such as sacredness, relatedness, enrichment and union with God. In the same chapter we saw how bodily discrimination creates social evils in the Indian society. Humanity faces many forms of self-destruction like abortion, homosexuality, prostitution, suicide, euthanasia and so on which can be considered as disharmony among us. The negative attitude towards the body results in collective problems and reduces the human person to a position of helplessness.

Human body as a created reality and the person as the union of body and soul. As we have seen, the body is essentially united with the soul. Though there were deviations in the understanding of body the correct perception of the body from Biblical and magisterial teachings enabled us to arrive at a clear concept of the human body. It reminds us not to be carried away by the false understanding of the human person but to respect the body and to have a right anthropological vision. For Paul, embodiment is an essential part of being human and the body is intimately involved in the process of undergoing transformation and in the process of redemption. The Theology of the Body of John Paul II gives us a right perspective on the body.

Today, the world stands in need of human beings who are whole, capable of widening beyond themselves. A liberated person is one who delights in the welfare of all beings. He has to realize that s/he is part of the whole and not an isolated individual in the universe. Jesus Christ revealed humans to themselves and He is a model of humanity. Therefore, He is our archetype to reach the perfection.

ONE BODY WITH MANY GIFTS

"God has given us the gift of life, what we give is the gift to God."

In the first epistle to the Corinthians, the apostle Paul reminded the church at Corinth that the body of Christ does not consist of one gift but of many gifts. He writes, "If the foot should say, 'Because I am not a hand, I do not belong to the body,' that would not make it any less a part of the body. And if the ear should say, 'Because I am not an eye, I do not belong to the body,' that would not make it any less a part of the body. But as it is, God arranged the gifts in the body of various parts, each one of them, as he chose. If all were a single gift, where would the body be? As it is, there are many parts, yet one body. The eye cannot say to the hand, 'I am not need of you,' nor again the head to the feet, 'I am not need of you.' On the contrary, the parts of the body that seem to be weaker are indispensable."

I appeal to you therefore, Brothers, by the mercy of God, to present our bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God, which is our spiritual worship. Do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewal of our mind, that by testing us may discern what is the will of God, what is good and acceptable and perfect. For by the grace given to us, I request everyone not to think of oneself more highly than one ought to think, but to think with sober judgement, each according to the measure of faith that God has assigned. For as in one body we have many gifts, and the gifts do not all have the same function, so we though many, are one body in Christ, and individually gifts one of another. Having gifts that differ according to the grace given to us, let us use them: if prophecy, in proportion to our faith; if service, in our serving; the one who teaches, in his teaching; the one who exhorts, in his exhortation; the one who contributes, in generosity; the one who leads, with zeal; the one who does acts of mercy, with cheerfulness.

St. Paul deals with our life as worship towards God. He deals with humility and lowliness in relation to ourselves. All of this is what life looks like when we know that we have peace with God by faith alone and Christ has become the foundation and summation of all our hopes. Here on the individual is really to stress that each of us is part of the collective unity called the body and that each of us is connected with every other gift of the body. So one might say: There is no effort here to emphasize the value of individuality, but the contrary, to say that the body is all that counts.

Having gifts that differ according to the grace given to us. That is a conscious effort to make explicit our individual differences created and willed by God's grace. Then he spells out different gifts. So it would not be fair to say that Paul is trying to minimize our individuality and only emphasize the corporate reality of the body. Gifts (parts) of one another. One by one. Individually. Here's what Paul is saying: I am part of you. You are part of me. I am like your eye or your ear or your hand or your foot. And you are like my eye or my ear or my hand or my foot. Each individual, Paul says, is part of the other individuals in the body. Here is the amazing thing: That's who I am. I am part of you, which means that our individuality, our individual identity, as God has created us to be, cannot be known except in serving us as we rely upon Christ. And ours cannot be known except in serving others in reliance on Christ. That's what hands and feet and eyes and ears do. They serve. That's why we have gifts which is one body with many gifts.

LIFE IN FULLNESS

We may wonder why some people always shout, get angry and are always in a rage, thus we come to the conclusion that these people are troubled some and are not easy to work with. Due to these comments and remarks we wound and hurt them in such way that automatically these people react become sick and their heart is troubled always they become unnecessarily get upset over very little things.

I am reminded with the words of prophet Isaiah “the wicked are like the troubled sea, when it cannot rest, whose waters cast up mire and dirt. There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked”. (Isa: 57:20-21)

So when our heart is restless like a troubled sea we find no peace in our heart, we will be not only shouting but also casting up mire and dirt on others. In other words, a troubled person will always blame others for everything that is happening around him/her.

When I reflect on this I wonder and question to myself how many times I have become a cause to someone or hurt them with my poor understanding and failings to know that each of us are beloved Children of God. How can blame others for my own lives problems and challenges? Do I have a right to put down my fellow being and leave behind the Gospel values that Jesus teach me to practice?

At last I draw my own answers that I have a power not to trouble anyone in order to become responsible to face the trials and troubles of my own life in a given situation. If I am able to practice this simple logic I am sure not only me but we all of us can become true fellow travelers in life's journey.

It is a true saying that the heart of the problem is the problem of the heart. When our heart is right with God everything will fit in the right place like a jigsaw puzzle. At the end I humbly conclude let us build and not destroy, let's unite and not divide to make a difference to each other. The world is a better place for you and for me to live a dignified life God has granted us to live to its fullness. Like Jesus who gives to each of life in fullness to share with one another in abundance.

SPIRITUAL INDIVIDUALISM

(All about finding God within ourselves)

The general trend among humans has always been about living in groups. The dawn of civilization came with a multitude of systems and beliefs centered on the individual in the society. That was the need of the hour. For the identity-less human, the group became a part of his existence. Religion, culture, and community were the qualifiers of the self. These systems sought to answer a lot of unknowns. Religion, too, came with the idea of identifying oneself as a part of something greater. The basic belief was the fact that our souls belong to a greater force, to God. And so, everything became about getting closer to God. Letting go of the needs of the individual and selflessly working towards attaining something greater than our current existence was a commonality. Those who successfully relinquished their core human desires were considered great. Over the years, a beautiful concept emerged- let go of yourself and find the greater force. Become one with God. The crux of spirituality/ religion was just that. Every single ritual, method, practice became focused on this very aspect.

After the second world war, spirituality became increasingly more about personal experiences. The New Age of thought emphasizes on the individual and his/her feelings. Importance is given to personal growth and autonomy of the individual. This modern spirituality, in no way, denies the existence of a higher power. In fact, this way of living focuses on finding that higher power within ourselves. Life experiences, our thoughts, and beliefs become the source of all spiritual matters. Ergo, spirituality translates into doing what your desires want you to do. It is about experiencing every single thing you've always wanted to experience. It is about finding happiness in all the experiences, even in the sad ones. It is about understanding the deeper meaning of every single experience rather than shunning it altogether. It is about finding the light within ourselves. Philosophers like Osho have drawn a lot from these beliefs- "Truth is within you, do not search for it elsewhere."

Another interesting concept of this modern-day take on spirituality is the fact that the body, the mind, and the soul are equally important. One cannot separate the body from the soul. A human is viewed as an individual entity and not as a collection of different parts. Accordingly, spirituality becomes more about nurturing your entire self. Instead of running around doing the things society expects of you, doing the things that your "gut" tells you to do will bring you closer to yourself. The closer you are to yourself, the closer you are to the ultimate power. The concept of "true-self" becomes very important here. Your "true-self" is often hidden. We are so used to masking our identity to fit in the society that we have forgotten who or what we actually are. The modern-day spirituality seeks to answer this question by focusing on the individual as a whole and not by separating the soul from the body. The body and the mind play significant roles this way. For the modern spiritualists, the body forms the base of all our desires, the mind rationalizes and keeps a reality check, whereas the soul is considered to be our moral compass, our divine self. Harmonize them and find yourselves happy inside out. Similar concepts can be found in Freudian psychology where the id resembles the body, ego the mind, and superego the soul. Freud has said that a balance between the three is always necessary. One simply cannot give one factor more importance than the other. Doing so often leads to unwanted psychological complications. Spiritually, if there's no balance, we will never find our true happiness. If there is a proper balance, a certain life force is created- something harnessed by the universal energy.

This 'vital life force' generates the energy required to lead a life full of energy, pleasure, health, and wealth.

New-Age spirituality also encompasses the belief that an individual is free to choose his/her own spiritual path. With the development of the 'spiritual but not religious' concept, a huge number of people have started renouncing the traditional belief systems for more modern and eclectic practices. People are free to choose their life-path from a "free spiritual market." Everyone is free to explore their options and adopt a mix-n-match kind of a world-view. Some of them might choose to explore the essence of a particular religion, while others might leave out the religious aspect totally. Some might even explore the darker paths i.e., Satanism. Whatever we decide to do, we are free to explore and follow the path that makes us happy- the path that leads us to our personal growth. By being picky and choosy, we are destroying the dogmas associated with spirituality. Besides this personalized things are always better.

So, while at the core of spiritual individualism is the individual alone, compassion and love aren't concepts foreign to this particular movement. The only difference is that instead of being completely altruistic, one focuses on their own needs before those of the others'. Basically, if you are happy, only then are you capable of making others happy.

SUFFERING IS BOON

Most of the people in the world including I am scared to face the challenges, problems and sufferings. The perfect and infinite being is great for instance our Good Shepherd Jesus Christ who faced trials and tribulations but at the end he succeeded his passion through his Resurrection. This is where we all need to believe in Him and follow His footsteps. Consecrated and lay persons are so much worried to face trials among the peoples in the society as we see every day that people ran away from one's life by taking different paths. Lord Jesus suffered and brought good news to all that your sufferings will turn into Joy. Likewise let us be bold and pray to the harvest to send us blessings so that we may not run away from problems or sufferings instead show the people that we are redeemed by Jesus Christ. May the Good Lord be with us as we take up new responsibilities in the institutions may lead us to correct path to guide our brothers and sisters by showing love and compassion so that when sufferings come our way it will turn into joy. Thus sufferings becomes blessings of you believe in God and in you. Suffering is Boon. Suffering is Boon.

Pope Francis message touched me.

Christ is alive! He is our hope, and in a wonderful way he brings youth to our world, and everything he touches becomes young, new, full of life. The very first words, then, that I would like to say to every young Christian are these: Christ is alive and he wants you to be alive! He is in you, he is with you and he never abandons you. However far you may wander, he is always there, the Risen One. He calls you and he waits for you to return to him and start over again. When you feel you are growing old out of sorrow, resentment or fear, doubt or failure, he will always be there to restore your strength and your hope. Thank you all.

WHO IS THE GREATEST?

- Not the one who accepts sorry is greater one rather the one who humbles himself to ask sorry will be greatest one.
- Not the path which leads you to good is greater one. Rather the good path in which you lead others is the greatest one.
- Not the one who wins is greater one. Rather the one who behind him to be a winner is the greatest one.
- Not the one who remember his gift of life on his/her Birthday greater one. Rather the one who remember and live every day on value of gift of life is the greatest one.
- Not the hand which wipes his/her own tear is greater one. Rather the hand which wipes the tears of other is the greatest one.
- Not the one who does all well for his fame is greater one. Rather the one who does good things for the real love is the greatest one.
- Not the one who takes the appreciation as his inspirations is greater one rather the one who takes his criticism as his inspiration is the greatest one.

ADVENTURER PERSONALITY

"I change during the course of a day, I wake and I am one person and when I go to sleep I know for certain I am somebody else." -Bob Dylan

Adventurer personality are true artists, but not necessarily in the typical sense where they are out painting happy little trees.

Adventurers enjoy upsetting traditional expectations with behaviour- chances are they've expressed more than once the phrase "Don't box me in"

Adventurers live in a colourful sensual world, inspired by connection with people and ideas. these personalities take joy in reinterpreting these connections reinventing and experimenting with both themselves and new perspectives no other type explorers and experiments in this way more. This creates a sense of spontaneity, and making Adventurers seem unpredictable, even to their close friends and loved ones.

Adventurers live to find ways to push their passions. Riskier behaviour like gambling and extreme sports are more common with this personality type than with others. fortunately their atonement to the moment and their environment allows them to do better than most, Adventurers also enjoy connecting with others and have certain irresistible charm.

Adventurers always know just the compliments to soften a heart that's getting ready to call their risk irresponsible or rack less.

The biggest challenges facing Adventure is planning for the future, finding constructive ideals to base their goals on and working out goals that create positive principles is no small task. Adventurers don't plan their future in terms of assets and retirement. rather they plan actions and behaviour as contribution to a sense of identity, building a portfolio of experiences not stocks..

Developing and maintaining a new habit may not come naturally, but taking the time each day to understand their motivations allows Adventures to use their strengths to pursue whatever they've come to love....

THE STORY OF MY LIFE

One day a young boy asked his father what was the value of his life. Instead of answering, the father told his son to take that rock and go sell it in the market. If anybody asked the price raise two fingers and don't say anything. The boy then went to the market and a woman asked him how much is this rock? I want to put it in my garden the boy didn't say anything and raised up two fingers ... and the woman said: Two dollars? I'll take it! And the boy went home and told his father: a woman wants to buy this rock for two dollars! The father then said: son, Want you to take this rock to a museum if anybody wants to buy it; don't say word and just put up to fingers. The boy then went to museum and a man wanted to buy the rock. The boy didn't say word and put up two fingers and the man said:200 dollars? I'll take it! The boy was shocked and went running home... Father, a man wants to buy this rock for 200 dollars his father then said: son, the last place I want you to take this rock is to a precious stone store..."show it to the owner and don't say a word and if he asks the price just put up two fingers the son then went to a precious stone store. He showed the rock to the owner, "where did you find this stone? "It is one of the rarest stones of the world... I must have it. " How much would you sell it for?"The boy put up two fingers... and the man said: I'll take it for 200 000 dollars! "His father then said: "son, do you know the value of your life now?"

You see. It doesn't matter where you come from or where you were born. The colour of your skin. How much money you were born into. It matters where you decide to place yourself the people you surround yourself with and how much you choose to carry yourself. You may have lived your whole life thinking you were a two dollar stone. You may have lived your whole life surrounded by people that saw your worth only for two dollars. But everybody has a diamond inside them and we can choose to surround ourselves with people that see our value and see our diamond inside of us. We can choose to put ourselves in a market or put ourselves in a precious stone store! and you can also choose to see the value in other people you can help other people see the diamond inside of them choose the people you surround yourself with wisely that can make all the difference in your life.(Taken from Dare to Do)
